BIBLE READING NOTES

Daily Bread Bible reading notes provide the reader with a passage from the Bible to read, a prayer and a thought for the day following on from the daily reading. They are a very popular way of helping us to read and understand more about our faith. It also gives encouragement and teaching.

Would you like to receive a free copy each quarter of the year? Speak to myself or Louise. I'm at St Andrew's most Wednesday mornings or St Peter's on a Sunday.

I look forward to hearing from you.

LOUISE'S LICENSING AT CHELMSFORD CATHEDRAL

This will be on October 17th at 5.15pm. Followed by refreshments.

LETTER FROM REVD LOUISE

Dear Friends,

I hope you are well and have coped with the extreme weather this summer. It's been a bit much for many of us!

As many of you already know, I will be moving in October to a new post as Residentiary Canon for Nurture and Education in Chelmsford Cathedral. This means I will be a member of staff at the Cathedral, taking services, doing pastoral work etc. But my specific role will involve overseeing their children's and schools work, helping to plan termly themed projects which will include lectures, exhibitions and other special events. On a very practical level, it will mean I can live just 3 miles from my parents. They are not as young as they were and whilst they are doing ok, I will be pleased to be able to keep a better eye on them!

Thank you for the many kind thoughts and wishes I've received since announcing this in July: you are very kind.

Many of you have asked about the future for St Andrew's and St Peter's so I will try to answer your questions.

The Diocese don't send anyone just to take over. There is a process to appointing a new Rector and it can feel a bit long and drawn out. The Church Council will be asked to produce a Parish Profile. This will contain information about Shoebury, about the parish, the churches, the people and what they sense is needed from a new priest. They may well consult widely in this and the Archdeacon and new Area Dean will be able to help them. They will be asked what sort of qualities the new priest will need, which aspects of parish life need particular attention and so on. It can feel like a dating profile and, as with any relationship, it is better to take it steadily and not rush!

We haven't had official confirmation about this but, as far as I know, no pastoral reorganisation is planned. This is the technical term used when parishes join up with others. The churches are active, cheerful and solvent and, importantly, have been faithfully contributing money to the central pot for many, many years. This is important. The Diocese does not have the resources it once had and, if parishes do not or cannot pay their way, when vacancies occur, it is not always possible to replace clergy. So thank you for the faithful generosity you have shown over many years: keep it going!

When I came to work in Shoebury nearly 16 years ago, there had been a 2-year vacancy. It can take that long but I hope and pray it will be much shorter. It is the case however, that it will be several months at the very least.

So, it will require lots of hard work and co-operation from everyone if the parish is to thrive. Denise our Church Warden, will be effectively in charge, working with the Parochial Church Council. Sandra Baines will be a key person in that as the Chair of the PCC and as our Lay Reader. PLEASE, don't just leave all the work to Sandra and Den! Offer help, be cooperative and positive. Don't stop coming to church!

We are in the process of asking local clergy to help cover communion services. Some services are proving easier to cover than others but we will do our best.

Happily, we will be able to continue with most of the activities I'm involved with: for example, Mark Gadsden will lead our after-school clubs; Jo Hellenbrand from the Baptist Church will continue with services at Kathryn Court and Autumn Cottage. Others will take on booking burials of ashes, weddings, funerals and baptisms. And still others will try to keep up with housebound church members. It will be different but I am confident the work here will go from strength to strength as you all commit to pray for each other and for the future, and as you uncover new gifts and skills.

My last Sunday will be at Harvest Festival on October 4th. We will have tea and cake at St Peter's after the 11am service.

The previous night (Oct 3rd) we'll have a farewell 'do' at St Andrew's Hall at 6pm. This will be a buffet and we hope many of you will come. Please let us know! Also, please sign the sheets in church to indicate if you can bring some food. Please don't just bring random food... there is a specific list and it's much more helpful if you can please bring items on the list! Also, if you are bringing food, please bring it in time for 6pm. Thank you so much and especially to Den and Nikki who are organising this.

I will be licensed to my new post in a service at the Cathedral on Oct 17th at 5.15pm. You are all welcome to attend but it would be helpful to know approximate numbers as they print orders of service and will be providing food afterwards. So, please let me know in early September that you would like to come.

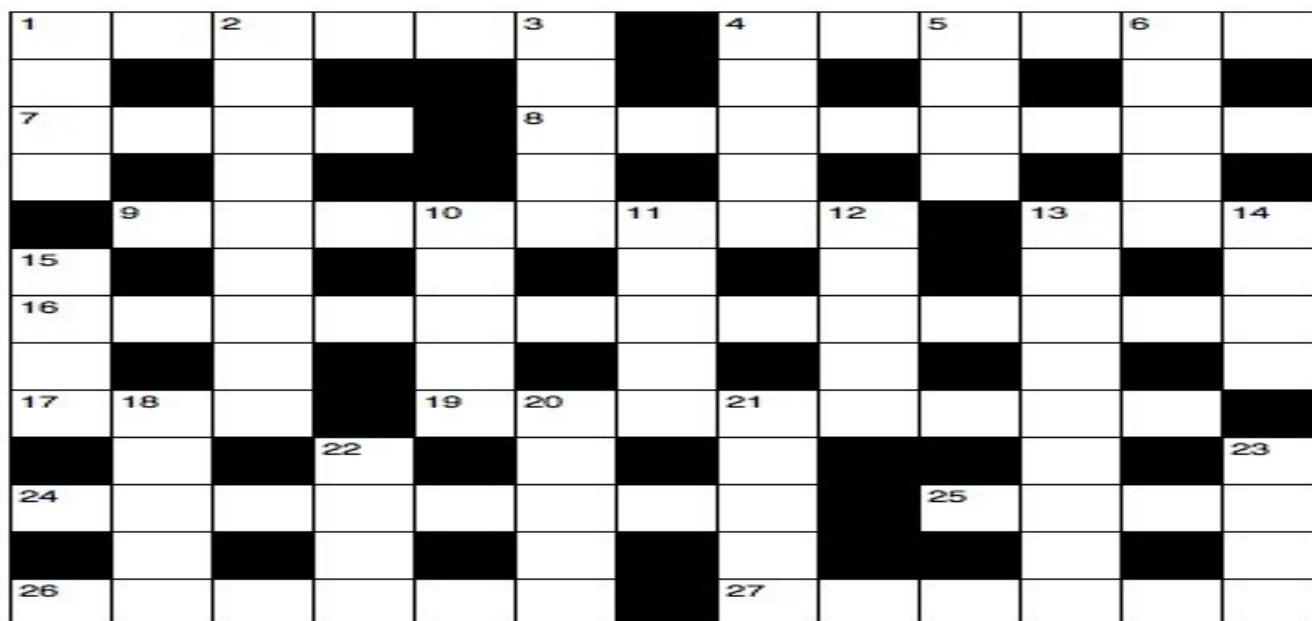

I've had a very happy, nearly, 16 years here in Shoebury. You have been unfailingly kind, generous and supportive and it will be a real wrench to leave. I do ask for your prayers as my daughter Lizzy and I move. I will of course, be keeping you in my prayers.

God bless you.

With love,

Louise.x

GIVING

Thank you to all who give so generously for the work and mission of our church. Giving is an important part of our Christian life and we encourage you to consider both what and how you give!

Many choose to make a donation in cash whenever you attend worship. Others prefer to give directly from their bank accounts each month.

Giving by Standing Order. You could do this weekly, monthly or quarterly. This form of regular giving is especially helpful if you are unable to attend church regularly. And it saves us having to count it up and pay it in at the bank!

The church banking details are as follows:

Sort code 20-79-73

Account number 90498092

Account name: The Parochial Church Council of the Parish of South Shoebury

Your bank should be able to help you to set this up.

If you are a taxpayer, please don't give this way as we are unable to reclaim the tax which the government gives us via Gift Aid! Please consider giving via the Parish Giving Scheme. This is an excellent scheme which reclaims tax for us every month and makes our admin much simpler. This QR code will take you to their website, or please use the website information below.

<https://www.parishgiving.org.uk/givers/howtogive>

LEGACIES We have been hugely blessed by those who have remembered us in their Wills. If you are reviewing your Will, please consider leaving a percentage or sum towards the life of the church. The legal name for the parish is 'The Ecclesiastical Parish of South Shoebury'.

Thank you all so much for your generosity.
Louise.

16th September – St Ninian, Apostle of the Picts

Ninian was a Celt who was born about 360, in southern Scotland. He was remarkable for two things: he was almost certainly the first man in Scotland to live in a little white stone house, and also the first to preach the gospel to the Scots.

Just as remarkable: becoming the apostle to the Picts was intimately connected to him even having a white-washed stone house, instead of the usual wooden hovel.

For Ninian had not always stayed in Scotland, but had travelled to Rome to study, and then on to Gaul, where he had spent time with St Martin of Tours. Martin's monastery was called Loco Teiac (little white house), and it seems that when Ninian returned to Scotland to preach the gospel, he wanted something similar.

And so it was that Ninian built his little white house, called Ad Candidam Casam, and began sharing the Gospel with the Picts who lived in Whithorn and Galloway. This was the region north of the old Roman wall – where Roman rule had never been established.

Ninian seems to have been very effective, for it is said that, like Patrick (a generation later) and Columba (a century and a half later), he helped form the character of Celtic Christianity. And throughout southern Scotland, there are still many churches who bear his name.

God in the Arts

‘He gave us eyes to see them’ – the church bells

‘Summoned by Bells’ is the title of John Betjeman’s poetic autobiography, where he describes how bells summoned him to school and to church. Bells announcing the joy of weddings and Sunday services; and also marking out times of sadness and the death of loved ones.

One of the strangest bell-towers is at St Augustine’s Church, Brookland in Kent, north-east of Rye. It was originally built in the medieval period, and now stands as a triple coned, wooden, octagonal tower detached from the church, and clad with shingles in 1936.

The story is that the tower looked down at a beautiful bride about to marry an unpleasant groom: it was such a surprise that the tower jumped off the church in shock. The truth is that the church was built on marshy ground, and a stronger foundation was needed for the bells. And so, the tower was built north of the church.

Like all belfries and steeples, it is an impressive witness to the place of bells in human life and work: as time-keepers, announcing both festive occasions and emergencies, and calling people away from more worldly pursuits to worship. That is why bells have always been blessed at their installation for their true function is to ring out the harmony of heaven.

The tenor bell at Warburton Church in Cheshire is inscribed with the words, 'I bid you to the house of prayer. St Werburgh's hallowed name I bear. Good folk draw near and humbly pray, as prayed that saint in olden day.' As a little boy, John Betjeman would listen to the bells with his teddy bear, Archibald. 'I heard the church bells hollowing out the sky, deep beyond deep, like never-ending stars.' For him, for the people of Brookland, and for all of us, the bells were like stars lighting up the sky with faith and joy and praise.
